

Christmas

It happened one afternoon at Christmas. A boy was walking with his family when he suddenly saw a child lying in the snow. He asked what his name was, and he answered Henry. The family invited him to spend Christmas. Henry accepted. It was the best Christmas of Henry. He played, sang and ate everything he wanted. The twenty-fifth of December in the morning Henry looked under the Christmas tree and he saw a present for him. Henry was very happy. The child also celebrated the New Year with the family. Henry choked with the grapes! The following day, the gentleman, who was taking care of the children in the orphanage, went to take Henry. The child of the family felt very sad, because he was only son and Henry had been like a brother for him. Before leaving, the child asked his parents if they could adopt Henry. The parents answered yes and since that day they are living very happy like a real family.

END

Emma Pérez Ruiz 4ESO